Whether...safe or marginal...congressmen must constantly engage in activities relating to reelection.
- David Mayhew

Course Description:

Prerequisite: POLS 1101

This course covers congressional elections, exploring theoretical questions about the process and examining the empirical evidence available to answer those questions. In particular, roles of political parties, interest groups, and electoral rules are among the major items examined in the course.

Required Readings:

Texts:

Herrnson, Paul S. 2019. Congressional Elections, 8th ed.

Sabato, Larry J. (ed.). 2023. The Red Ripple

Web Sites:

Google News/Politics
<https://news.google.com/news/section?&q=Politics>

POLITICO

<http://www.politico.com>

(We will likely also use several other sites as article sources)

Additional material: see <http://faculty.ung.edu/ccavalli/3124bib.htm>

ONLINE: Home – <http://faculty.ung.edu/ccavalli/3124.htm>, D2L (“eLearning”) – <https://ung.view.usg.edu>, Turnitin – <http://turnitin.com>

Course Objectives and Format:

Outcomes: Students will understand the history and functioning of congressional elections, explore issues involved in these elections from analytical and practical viewpoints, and be aware of other actors that influence, provide resources to, and regulate congressional elections.

This is a hybrid course which will meet part of the week, with online activities filling out the week. We will use D2L online (also known as eLearning), but I like to keep things simple. We will not use any “modules”, etc. Unless otherwise noted, all activity and communication will take place via the announcement and discussion sections. In class, we will engage in as much discussion possible. To that end, you need to read the assignments before their due date. Be able to discuss and answer questions about them. The texts lay out the basics. We will start each new topic (see Schedule) with the appropriate readings. We will examine past and current congressional elections to get a “current” view. Therefore, you must also stay informed of the progress of these events. We will follow current events mainly as covered in the Google News (<https://news.google.com/news/section?&q=Politics>) web site.

In addition to assigned readings, we will review Google News/Politics articles (or ones from other sources) most weeks. You will present and lead discussions of these online. Together, we will select articles that complement class topics¹. So in a real sense, you will help shape course content! Of course, you all are responsible for all assigned articles, text, and any other materials. In presenting articles, I would like you each to assume a particular role (e.g., candidates, party strategists, the press). This helps us gain particular insights into different perspectives on electoral and partisan issues. A list of roles appears at the end of this syllabus.

For most weeks (see Schedule), the class meets Monday/Wednesday only. Online discussion replaces most Friday classes: We will begin new topics and readings after most Wednesday classes. You are required to post comments on that material to our D2L (“eLearning”) discussion site. You are required to post at least one substantive response (1. not just “I liked...”, or “I didn’t like” or similar words; 2. analytical, not judgmental) to discussion/notes I will post on D2L each week and at least one substantive original comment. Treat online discussions as required readings – you are responsible for and may be tested on them. There may be videos to view, or other activities assigned as part of these discussions.

| Exams | Written exercises | Other | | 90+ = A |
|---------------|--------------------------|----------------------------------|------------|---------------------|
| Exam #1 | 15% Bibliography/Outline | 5% Online Discussions | | 80 to 89 = B |
| Exam #2 | 15% Project | 10% ...including role playing | | 70 to 79 = C |
| Final | 15% Presentation | 10% ...and general participation | 20% | 60 to 69 = D |
| | Revision | 10% | | Grand Total: |
| Total: | 45% | 35% | 20% | 100% |

There are two ‘mid-term’ exams and a final. Each is 15% of your grade. They consist of two essay questions. A few days before the exam, I will give you four essay questions. On the day of the exam, I will select two of these questions for you to answer. Please do not miss exams (you know our schedule now, so plan your schedule well ahead). I will not give makeups unless you 1) notify me or the department in advance (no exceptions); and 2) verify a family/medical emergency in writing. Note: I will not give any makeups after the graded exams are handed back in class. A group project of 18-24+ pages (depending upon group size), due no later than November 17th, is another 10% of your grade. The format and topics are covered on our web site, but you must consult me before proceeding. To prepare you for the project, an annotated bibliography is due by October 20th, and an annotated outline is due by October 27th. Together, these are worth 5% of your grade. A revision worth 10% of your grade is due during the last two weeks (see schedule). Do not turn in late papers! If I accepted them (and I may not!), you will lose either 5% or 1 point of your paper grade (whichever is greater) for each day late. Your online posts are another 20% of your grade. Finally, a presentation of your project during the last two weeks is another 10%.

I do not grade on a curve (You earn what you earn...I hope you all earn “A”s!). A typical class average is about a mid- to upper-“C” (“C” is average — not below average...“B” is above average). Just completing the requirements most likely earns a “C” (70-79). “B” (80-89) requires effort beyond just requirements. “A” (90-100) requires extraordinary performance. Notes on “attendance”: 1. The UNG attendance policy (see the latest UNG Student Handbook, or Bulletin) applies to this course; 2. Any D2L announcements are considered sufficient notice. So, attendance matters, and please check your email and D2L often.

¹ Each week, we will select articles for discussion for the following week’s class. Links to articles will be posted on our web site and in our D2L discussion topics.

Course Schedule:

NOTE: for unexpected class cancellations, we may reschedule on a "hybrid" day

Legend: H = Herrson: Congressional Elections, 8th Ed.; S = Sabato: The Red Ripple. Numbers following the names are chapter numbers. Other names refer to articles. Italicized titles refer to videos (see Additional material link, above). Articles = Google News articles (to be selected in class— see <http://faculty.ung.edu/ccavalli/3124.htm>). Items in Bold type are activities or assignments. [Light cells are class days]. Dark cells: D2L discussions. Red cells: exams. Red Text: Project. Grey cells: off days.

POLS 3124 Roles:

Article presentations and other class discussions will use Socratic Dialogues, requiring class members to assume various roles during discussions.

What is a Socratic Dialogue? The Socratic Dialogue format uses role playing, hypothetical case studies, and a roving inquisitor to compel panelists to confront what they would do in situations where the "right" choice is not clear. The question "What would you do?" is different from "What do you think?" in that it drives a participant to reveal how he or she would confront a specific problem. The exercise is designed to identify the perceptions and decision-making processes of all sides and to enable participants to better understand both their own positions and the imperatives driving others' actions. As panelists wrestle with the hypothetical situations, the drama created helps illuminate complex issues in an enlightening way. [Viewer's Guide, Beyond Black and White: Affirmative Action in America. 1999. PBS. [WWWdocument]]. URL <http://www.pbs.org/pov/tvraceinitiative/beyondblackandwhite/viewer.html#socratic>]

| These are suggestions for 'characters' to assume when presenting articles and leading discussion in class: | | | |
|--|-------------------------------------|--|---------------------------------|
| House Candidates | Senate Candidates | Campaign Specialists | Outside Actors |
| Republican House Candidates | Senate Republican Candidates | Republican Campaign Strategists | Interest Groups |
| Democratic House Candidates | Senate Democratic Candidates | Democratic Campaign Strategists | The Press and The Public |

Each class member must either select one of these roles or suggest another one subject to approval.
